Westerberg & Partners announces further expansion.

Specialist dispute resolution and IP firm Westerberg & Partners strengthens its arbitration practice with the addition of Natalia Petrik as counsel.

Natalia Petrik is well-known in the international arbitration community and is a strong advocate of Swedish arbitration. As Natalia joins Westerberg & Partners, she leaves the role of Deputy Secretary General and Head of Business Relations at the SCC Arbitration Institute where she has spent 17 years working also as legal counsel. Before joining the SCC, she worked as an arbitration and litigation associate at other major Swedish law firms. Natalia holds Swedish and Russian LLM degrees and speaks six languages. She joins the firm in February 2024.

Commenting on Natalia joining the firm, Maria Fogdestam Agius, head of dispute resolution at Westerberg & Partners, said: "We are thrilled that Natalia has decided to join our ranks as counsel. She brings a wealth of experience and considerable market recognition from the international arbitration community as well as deep insights into SCC procedure, qualities that are highly valued by Westerberg's clients. Many of our team members have worked with Natalia on multiple occasions over the years and we are delighted to welcome her to our firm as she returns to private legal practice."

Natalia Petrik said: "It's a true honor to become part of Westerberg & Partners, a top-tier Swedish law firm, known for its stellar lawyers and international practice. I am excited about joining the firm's arbitration and litigation team and look forward to contributing to its further development and ongoing success."
